THE SUPERIOR COURT BIII. One of the especial matters mentioned in the call of the Governor was to devise some measure for the

of our Supreme Court. In furtheance of this object Representative Buquo, of Houston county, intro- rious counties, in their primary "To establish an intermediate court precautions in selecting delegates as of Tennessee, and to relieve the will secure Democratic unity and crowded docket of the Supreme Court; to be composed of three judges, one from each grand division of the State." Among all the measures brought before the Legislature, we think none should have precedence in prompt and immediate action over this bill. The reasons, for such a court are obvious and imperative, and are so well known to every intelligent citizen of the State that it is hardly necessary to reiterate thme here. It is well known that our Supreme Court is about three years behind with its now accumulating, it will be utterly impossible for the present Court ever to catch up and clear the docket. Hundreds and hundreds of litigants have waited long and patientworn them out, and they now cry loudly for some relief.

It is no fault of our Supreme Judges that this state of affairs exists, they have worked untiringly to catch up, but they found the docket so crowded after the war and appelants have so increased since, that and even if it does, the people, the the sufferers and need the relief. It now takes about three or four years | earnest to come to some substantial. court has struggled on and yearly greater importance than the filling

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Messers Childress and Waltace Contested Seats in the House-Conhave issued a joint call for a straight Democratic Convention to nominate a candidate for Governor and promulgate a party platform. It may be found elsewhere in this issue in full. The call is issued without restrictions or conditions. This is as it should be.
